

exam rules

PHYS331

For students:

- ☒ Please be in the classroom assigned to your student ID, with your ID card visible on your desk.
- ⌚ You may take the exam only if you are late no more than half an hour after the start of the exam.
- ⚠ You may leave the exam room any time after the first half hour until the end of the exam.
- 📝 You must read and sign the cover page of the exam. By doing so, you agree to comply with all conditions stated therein.
- 🚫 You may only use your pen, pencil, and eraser. All other materials — including notes, calculators, phones, other electronic devices, and textbooks — are strictly prohibited.
- ✖ Please do not write on the formula sheet: they are to be used again in future exams, and writing on them will require reprinting, resulting in unnecessary paper waste.

For proctors:

- 👤 Please read the for students section above to know the relevant rules for the students.
- ☑ You are provided Exam Attendance Record: please check student ID's of each student and get their signature. If a student's ID number is missing from the record, allow them to take the exam, and add their ID and signature at the end/back of the exam attendance record.
- ⚠ The students are to be provided the exam, formula sheet (prepared by the instructor), and extra empty sheets for their own calculations.
- ✖ Please do not answer any physics, typography, or language questions of the students: please instead contact me if needed so that I can visit the classroom to answer the question(s).
- ✋ Please do not collect any extra sheet on which the student has done calculations: everything to be graded is in the exam alone!
- 📁 Please collect all the exams and all the formula-sheets, and pile them separately.
- ⚠ Please use common practices and your own judgment for cases not explicitly covered in this document, such as bathroom-breaks, announcement of time-left, incident reporting, and such.